

University of Cambridge

The University of Cambridge asked CDC to put on a Champagne reception with canapés in aid of the 'Dear World...Yours Cambridge' Campaign. The 350 guests were treated to a tour of Cambridge and speeches by Professor Stephen Hawking and Sir David Attenborough.

The Venue

The chosen venue was Senate House, an iconic university building nestled between King's College Chapel and Gonville & Caius. The Champagne and canapé reception took place in a marquee on the Senate House lawn.

The Food & Drink

As well as a Champagne reception CDC also served winter Pimms, Castillo de Moro wine, real ale and soft drinks from the stunning circular bar fitted around the impressive bronze urn on the Senate House lawn. CDC's efficient, professional staff served an exquisite array of canapés:

- Seared Tuna, Wasabi Mayo, Puffed Rice, Ginger & Chilli
- Mini Yorkshire Puddings, Roast Sirloin & Horseradish
- Braised Pork Belly, Apple Purée & Crackling
- Beetroot Tarte Tatin & Saffron Mascapone
- Stilton & Fig Arancini

CDC also catered for over 200 staff running the event and provided all linen, crockery, cutlery and glassware.
